

Welcome to Imperial Theatre!

Imperial Theatre has been operating in Menahkwesk/Saint John almost thirty years, supporting artists and working across communities, on the ancestral homelands and unceded territory of the Wolastoqiyik and Mi'kmaq Peoples. We at Imperial Theatre strive for respectful relationships through all of the programming that we support, as we work towards collective healing and honour this land together. Our aim is to use our platform to elevate and showcase Indigenous talent and voices through programming, outreach, and placemaking.

We wish to make Imperial Theatre a welcoming, fun, and caring space for patrons, performers, artists, agents, managers, employees, and volunteers alike. If at any time you are made to feel unsafe, see, or have something to bring to our attention, please let an employee know. Any concern brought to our attention will be taken seriously.

Care for yourself and others.
Participating in events is a privilege.
We have the right to ask you to leave this space.

Imperial Theatre will not tolerate discrimination, aggressive speech, or violent acts. This includes but is not limited to: racism, white supremacy, sexism, heterosexism/homophobia, cissexism/transphobia, queerphobia, sizeism, ableist and ageist comments, and all acts of violence and harassment.

We reserve the right to intervene and/or remove any patron or person in the space who is creating or contributing to an unsafe environment by violating the tenets of this mandate. This applies at all times – during a performance, in the lobbies, or backstage. It is up to Imperial Theatre staff, along with the person who experienced harm, to make the decision to remove a person. This removal may pertain to a particular performance, or may extend until the violation has been addressed.

Imperial Theatre operates under a liquor licence and does not allow outside liquor, drugs or drug use in the space. We ask that if you choose to consume alcoholic beverages that you do so in a responsible manner. We reserve the right to refuse service to patrons or persons whose behaviour suggests that they are intoxicated, and may remove them at this time.
